

Visit July 18, 2013

So after getting back and getting settled in again, putting things away, ordering what needed to be ordered and then sending it out, I thought my life was going to change for the better. Unbeknownst to me there's this thing called the Internet and it works through a computer. Well since I've been back, my computers been down, my Internet has been down and I've had numerous people come out and try to fix them. Each time I think all has been fixed it goes down again. I don't know why I should find this so strange because I have a lot of trouble with my being around all electronic appliances or items. I have this alarm clock in the bedroom that runs off of batteries. I don't know how it happened but I guess it means my sleeping next to it caused it to get fried. I don't know why or if I should even say this but my MacBook Air, iPhone and iPad don't seem to be affected by whatever kind of energetic charge I'm carrying around, I wonder if it feeds off of it?

Between me, the repair people and the dozens of phone calls going on, I wanted to make sure that I have Internet connectivity and everything is working fine. I contacted Ken to get some stuff done on the webpage. So after some hits and misses with trying to put purchase buttons up on the website, I decided to call the internet provider and find out what it is that we need to do and why the buttons don't work. Once I got a hold of technical support and told him what the problem was, he did some checking and said and let's get your webmaster on the line so we called Ken. Between the technical support person and Ken they managed to get the buttons up and now I have everything working. I just think it's so wonderful to have people in your life to know how to do things that you don't, God I'm fortunate. Speaking of people to help out, I had Morgan come over to help me today with the final finishing touches on cleaning my house.

As the day turned into evening, my house was clean and everything was in order. I decided to give Jules a call. We caught up on a lot of things given we hadn't talked in a while and discussed the upcoming conference. It was good hearing that her husband Jim was doing really well. After we finished talking I made some dinner and then put in a movie and watched it until 10 o'clock. I don't usually go to bed this early but decided to do it anyway. I needed to get up early because there were some things that I needed to do the following day. I went through the house turning off lights, locking doors and climbing into bed. I thought to myself that even with all of the breakdowns, it was a pretty good day and I drifted off to sleep.

Michael: Arise from your slumber for we would speak with you.

I opened my eyes to see Michael standing on the side of my bed and I was thinking of course you would come after I got to sleep. I watched Michael leave the room and I guess he was heading back to the office. I rolled out of bed grabbing my blue jeans and putting them on. Once that was done, I headed to the office to meet with whoever was there from the angelic realm. As soon as I turned the corner and headed towards the office, I saw Michael, Gabriel and Shekinah there. I thought to myself, given I have these three standing in my office there's probably some importance to what's going to take place tonight. Well it's nice to see you guys decided to join me for a visit. It's been awhile. So what do I own the honor of this visit?

Michael: I would first speak with you of that which you saw at the last Children of Light Conference.

Well first off, let me tell you it was pretty amazing with what we had in the formation. Ever since then my mind has been showing me pictures of what is possible with that formation as we sang the Names of God. When we got the hand movements synchronized with each name as we held the lights, I could see the generator that we built move. I think what I'll do this coming year in the formation is each person will hold two light sticks instead of just one and that should give a better view of what is going on with the generator. The only thing that really threw off the movement of the generator was that one of the bowl carriers had everybody in that group or the Sefirah put their light sticks into the bowl and it caused it to be off-balance. I thought about saying something at the time but I didn't want to break up the rhythm of the Names of God. I'll tell all of you there was something very special about the harmonics that were being created when everyone was singing.

Shekinah: That which you saw was the beginning or the starting up of the generator you were given to build with the formation. Imagine in your mind what it would look like with 333 masters standing in formation singing the names of God and moving the light sticks.

I did as the Shekinah suggested and what I saw was beyond imagination and words to describe it.

Shekinah: Look again and see that which I give you.

I don't know how she did it but she put this vision in my mind that gave me a much better view as to what was going to happen. This time when the Names of God were sung and the hand motions were competed with the light sticks, it was different. Not every one standing in a Sefirah started at the same time. There were several groups in each Sefirah. One group started and when it finished the first Name of God, the next group would do the same and so on. Imagine if you will what it would look like to see the light sticks moving in the different hand positions of the names of God, each at a different time, yet altogether as a group. There was a rhythm and a movement to it, all plugged in in such a way that you could really see how this formation made the generator begin to work. As the Names of God were sung along with the movement of the hands with the light sticks, there was a new harmonic that took place. I couldn't quite make it out. It was as though the Shekinah had hit the mute button. I couldn't help myself, I had to ask, is there a reason I can't hear the people singing?

Shekinah: There is a reason you cannot hear for it is not a sound that you or your kind is ready to hear. When you gather in the formation to do these things and sing what has been given, only then will you be ready to experience the harmonic vibrations that will be created. When this harmonic is achieved, those that are singing and moving the light sticks will become one with the generator. They will feel and deliver the grace to the world as it has never been done before.

Well from what I've been able to see in my mind, I know this is going to be something bigger and greater than we participated in yet. Okay, I have a pretty basic understanding of how this is going to work and what it's going to produce. However it's not going to be an easy matter to design the formation and put 333 people in it. I can see now I'm going to have to rethink the formation, the size and the number of people to put in it. The good news is that I think I've got a hotel that will probably be used for the event, so I'm expecting a contract back any day now. If it works out then I'm going to agree to it. Putting one of these conferences together is a lot of work and it takes a lot of time. Last year's conference was pretty good and it's great that I had the help I had in putting it together, but I still need to be more proactive in working on the conference.

Michael: You did well in putting the conference together. Our kind knows the work that it takes for you to put on a conference and still do all the other things you need to do.

Well one of the things you do need to know is that I did a lot of teaching last year and a lot of traveling. When I was out doing the wholeness blessing facilitators training, it wasn't just about going there and doing it for three days, it was a lot more involved than that. I have a feeling that there's going to be a demand for me to go out and do more facilitators training and I already have one scheduled for end of this August.

Michael: What you say is true and it is not an easy matter for you to put on a training and teach people to teach the blessing as you do. Given the time its going to take and the dedication to make this upcoming conference a success with 333 people, you were going to need to devote most of your time to working on the conference. You cannot continue to do the wholeness blessing facilitators training and the conference at the same time. I say unto you, let this be the last facilitators training you do.

That would open up my time a lot. Another thing that's going to save me time this year is I'm not going to be making all of those bowls. Do you know there are three people who bought bowls and they know that even though they have them now they have to bring them back for the next conference?

Michael: That would be wise of them for the bowls are a very significant part of stabilizing the vibrational harmonics. Now that we are talking about vibrational harmonics, Gabriel will give you information that you will give to the facilitators and the Masters.

Gabriel: There are those you call facilitators. Yet these are not the only ones who have the Names of God tuning forks and oil. As you and your kind move towards the conference you're going to be holding next June in Salt Lake, there are things that can be done to assist long before you gather there. Take one day of the month and tune yourselves with the names of God tuning forks. Anoint yourselves with the names of God oils. When you are done, say the Seven Names of God seven times. This may be done by anyone that has the correct forks and oils. They may also share the tuning forks and oils with those that do not have them.

So what I'm hearing you say is that we need to tune our vibrations throughout the year once a month until we meet at the conference. This is going to raise our vibrational harmonics over a period of time to have us be ready for the formation when we meet in June. I can see where it would be great if more people had the tuning forks and oils but I still think it's great that those that don't can still be a part of it by singing the names of God once a week.

Gabriel: This is so. Yet again it is wise for all to do this once a week only singing the Seven Names of God seven times. This may be done individually or in a group.

So here's the question I have now. Is there a date when are we supposed to start this?

Gabriel: It would be wise to start this on the first Saturday of the month. When this is done then sing the Seven Names of God every Saturday thereafter until the next first Saturday of the month when you will be doing the oils and the tuning forks and the singing the seven names of God again.

Okay, I understand everything that you had to say, what else is there? With that being said, Gabriel and Michael turned and moved back into the light that engulfed them and they were gone. Only the Shekinah was left standing in front of the ball of light that Michael and Gabriel left in. Even though there was this big ball of light behind the Shekinah, it was as if she had like her own ball of light around her. It was like a ball of violet waves rising up off the street on a hot summers day. As she stood there looking at me, I was wondering where the conversation was going to go next.

Shekinah: I would speak to about something that you do not understand yet you think you do. You think that singing the Seven Names of God and raising your vibration with the oils is merely a matter of getting you ready for the conference. Yet I say to you, there is more to this than you know. Let me speak of it in a way that you and others may know what of is being said. When your kind is learning a song they must practice it in order to have it be the way that it should be sung. That which Gabriel has given the Masters to do is offered you so your voices will be tuned in a harmonic vibration for the formation. As each sings, they should listen to their voices and they will notice that as they continue to sing, the purity of what they say will begin to stand out even unto them. Now that you know this, I also say it would be wise to sing in the presence of one of the bowls that were made and used at the event in Kansas City. This will help in tuning the bowls that you will be using next year.

I take it when I do this process, I'm going to have to bring out the nine bowls that I have left and sing in their presence so they too can be attuned harmonically?

Shekinah: This is so. You must remember all bowls were made the same and they must all be tuned the same. When all the bowls are set in place this year and Gabriel stands in the Sefirot that is hidden, they will all be connected and in your voices you will hear the voice of the Shekinah.

I did have a lot more questions that I wanted to ask but before I could, the Shekinah started to fold back into the light. As she left she said that which Michael and the other angels have said every time they leave. Be at peace and teach only love. With that being said, the violet light folded in upon itself and she was gone.

Bless Your Heart,

Joe Crane
